

INCONGRUENTLY INCONGLORIOUS

Y'all got video games in this plane of existence?

Robots With Coffee Coloring Book #1.5

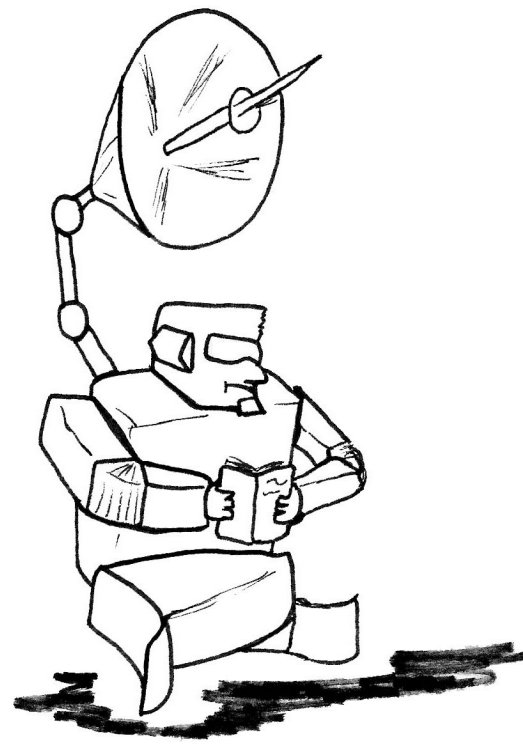

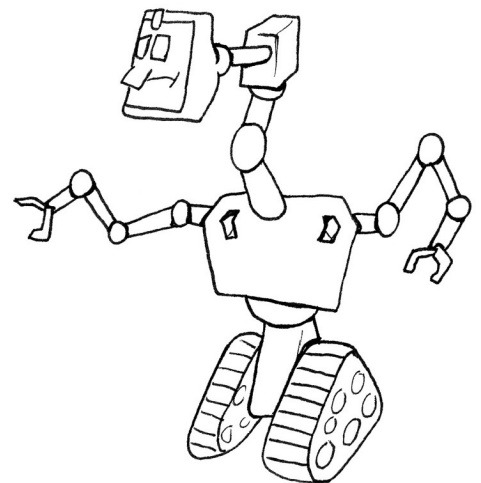

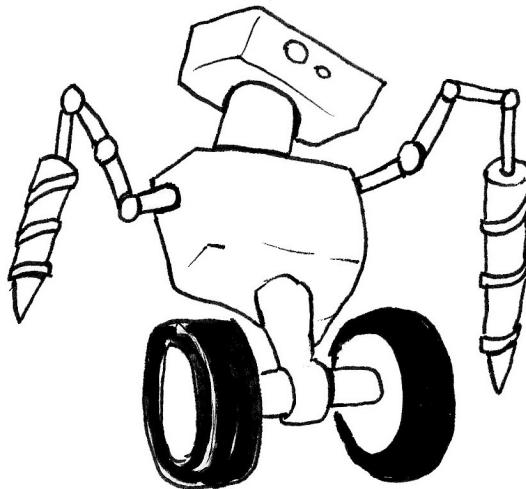

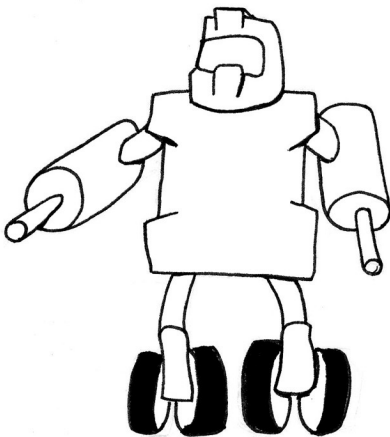

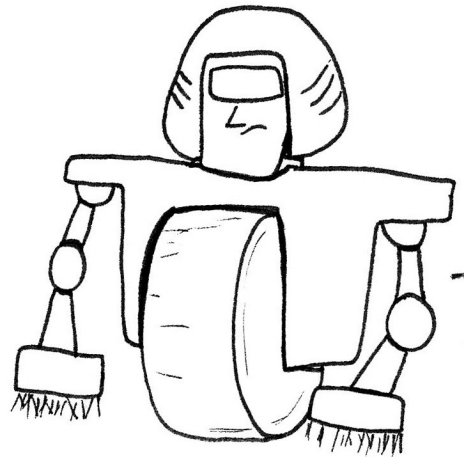

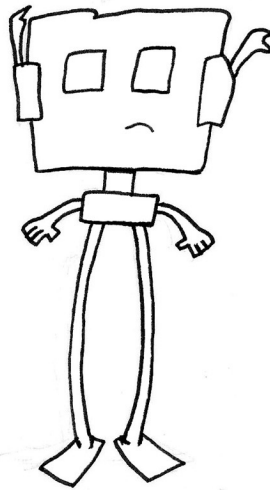

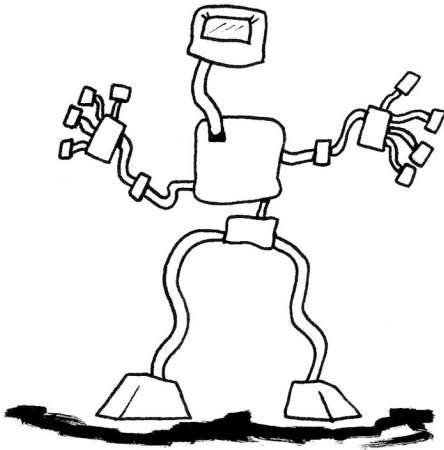

Nice sandals.

Who you textin'?
Is it me?
I'm right here.

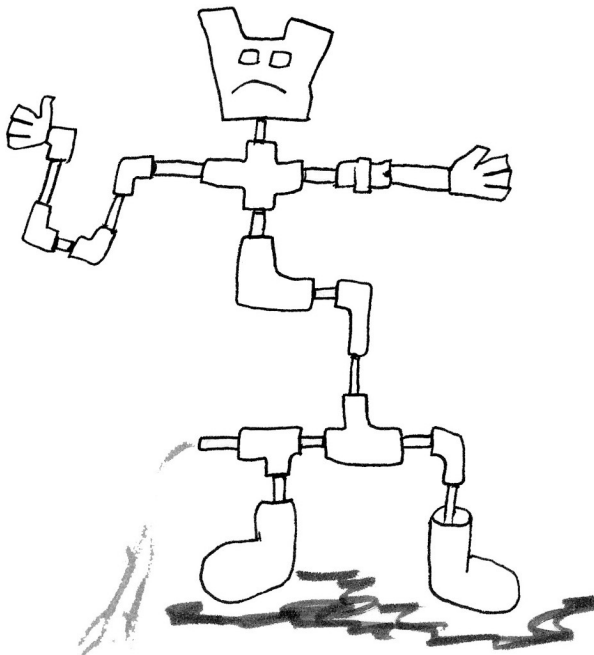

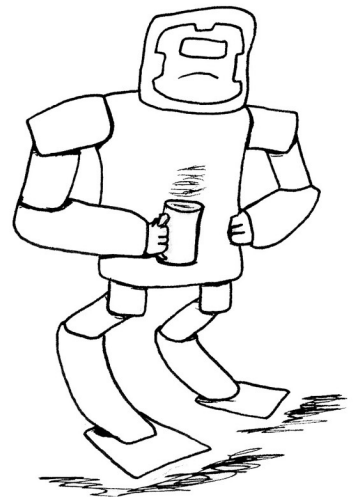

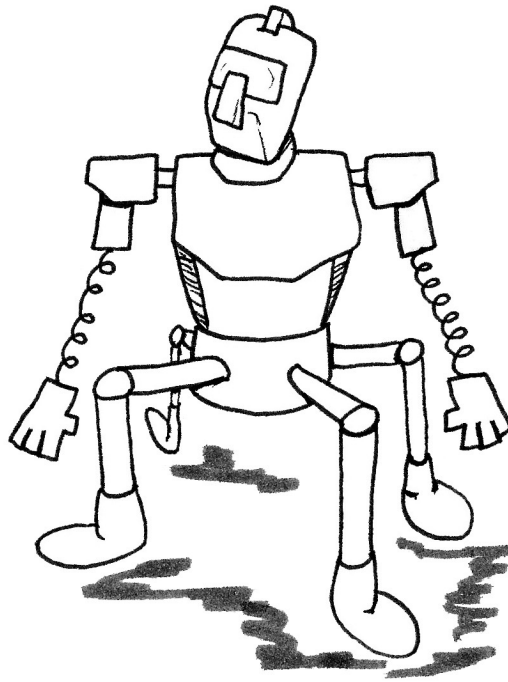

Incoming transmission:
(no spoilers please)

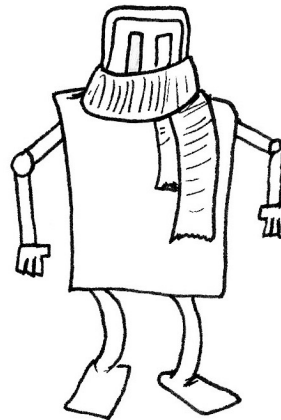

These guys save a lot of money on shoes.

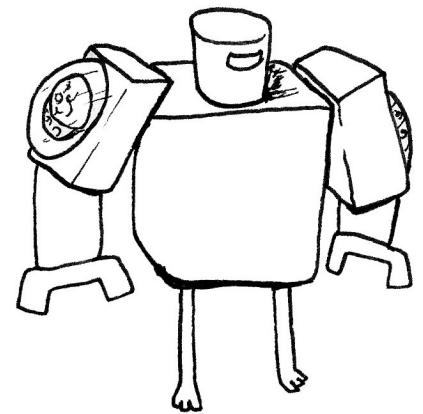

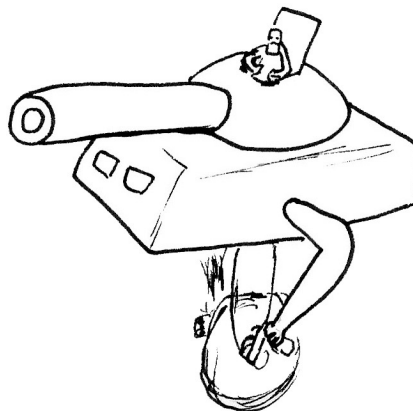

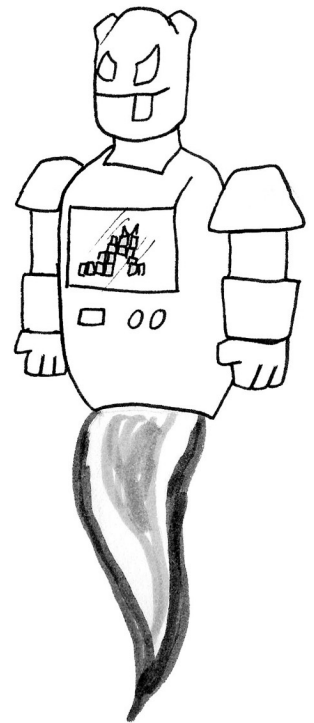

ACTION OVERALLS!

Stop leaking on my coloring book, dude.

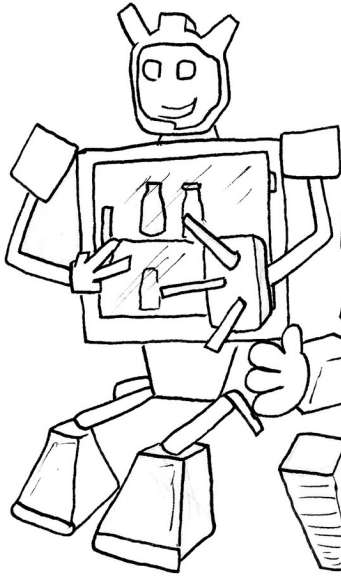

Bundled up!

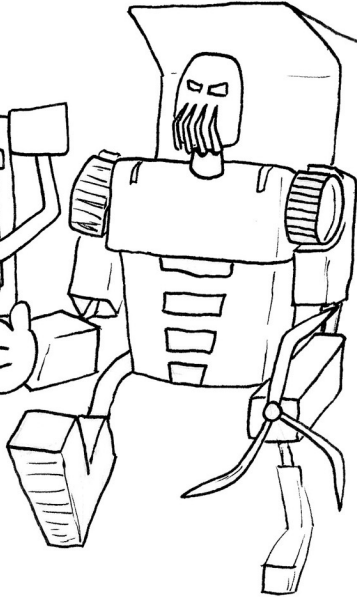

My name is Shoulder-Brains.

TROUBLESTIRrer

GRINDOG

BOTTOMLESS
CUPPA
JOE

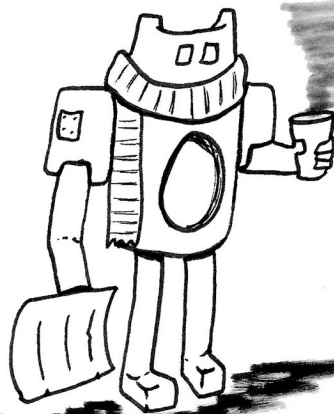

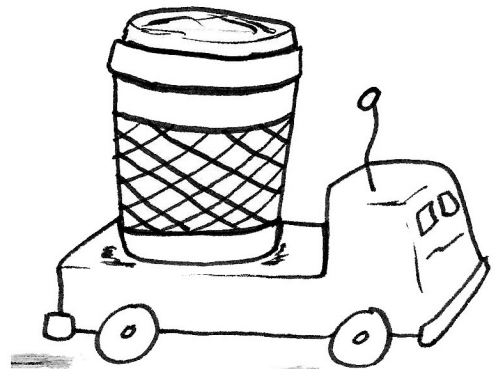

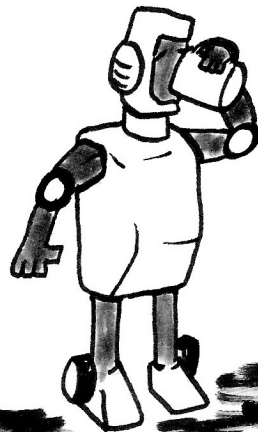

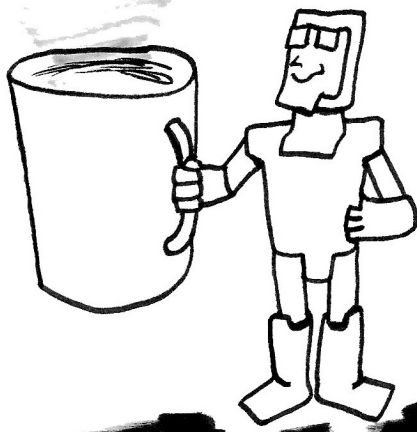

BAR-STARSCREAM

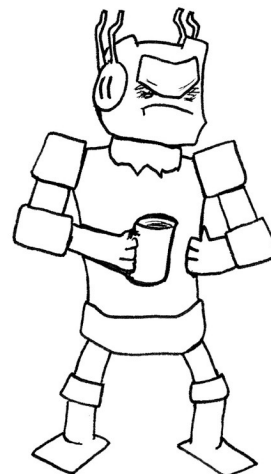

Kids, do any of your parents work in the movie, television, or toy business? Or in marketing? I'm just asking.

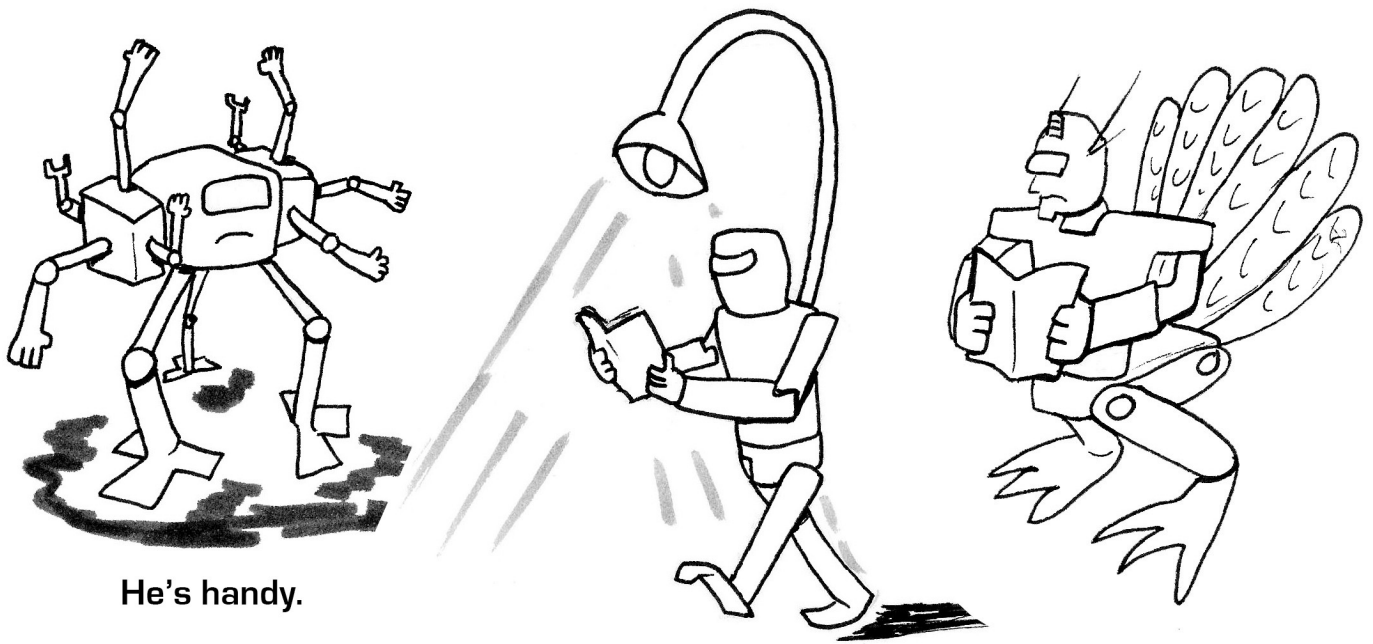

What about multinational coffee beverage companies? Have them call me.

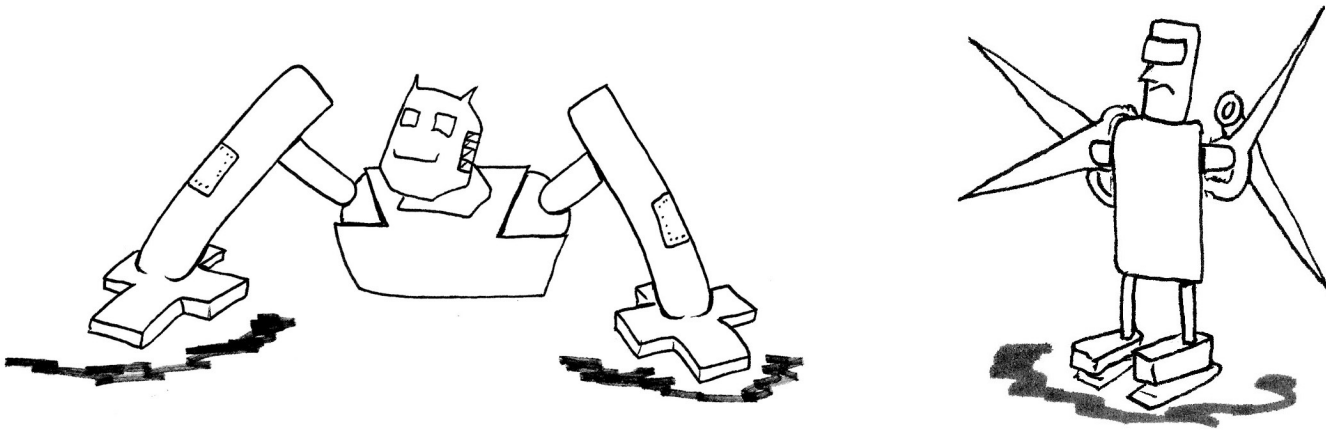

"Mom, Dad, you should call Bill Johnsontron in Licensing and get on these characters that, if I had control of our disposable income, I would totally buy."

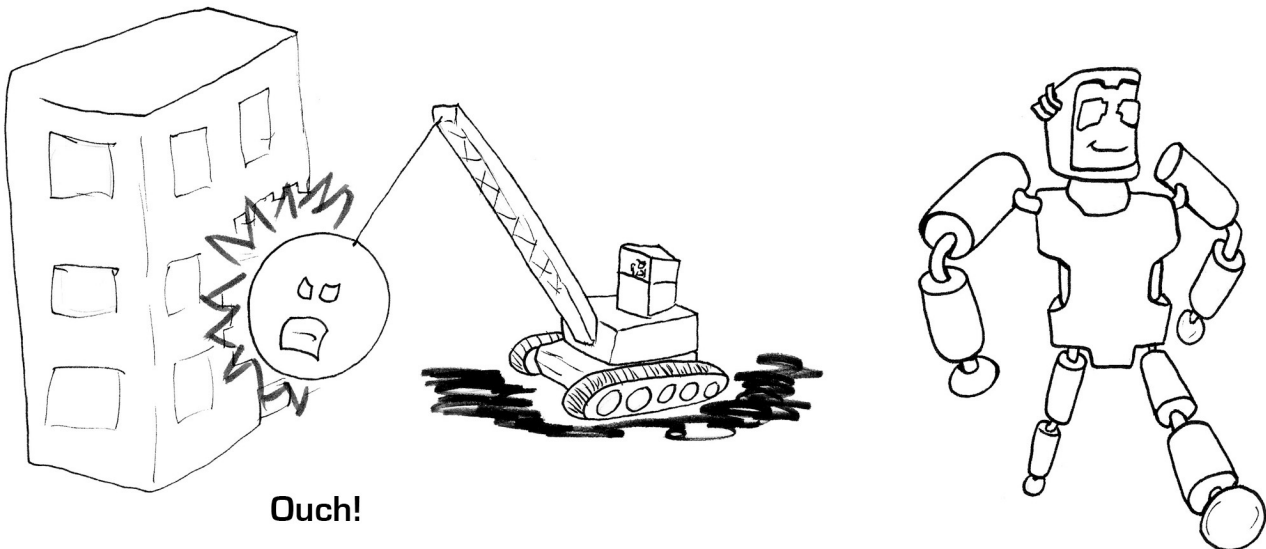

"Good call, our new favorite child. Just for that, you're vice president of the other children and you'll get a key to the executive bathroom."

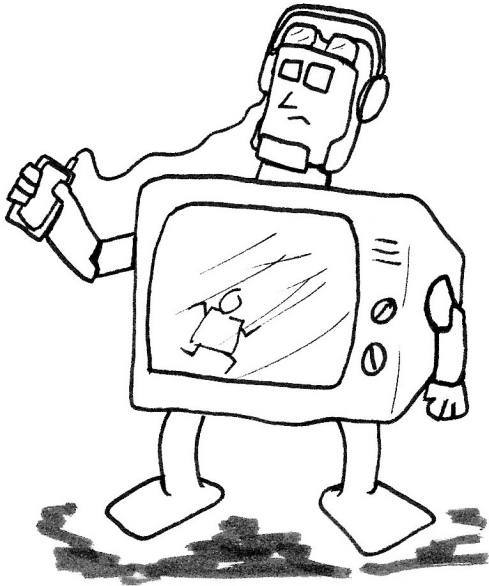

He's handy.

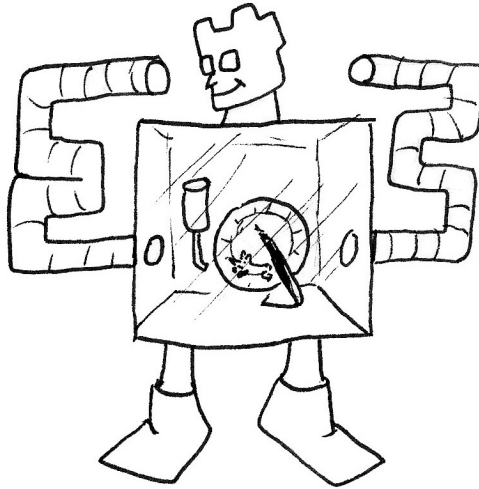

There's a guy at my office who is made out of my office.

Ouch!

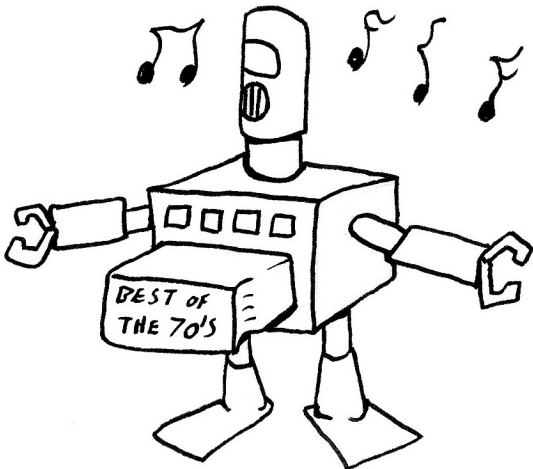

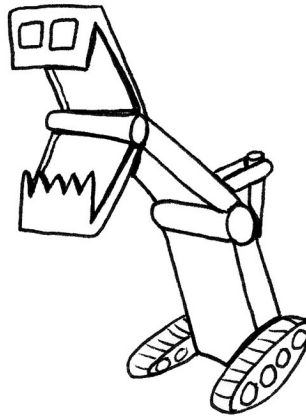

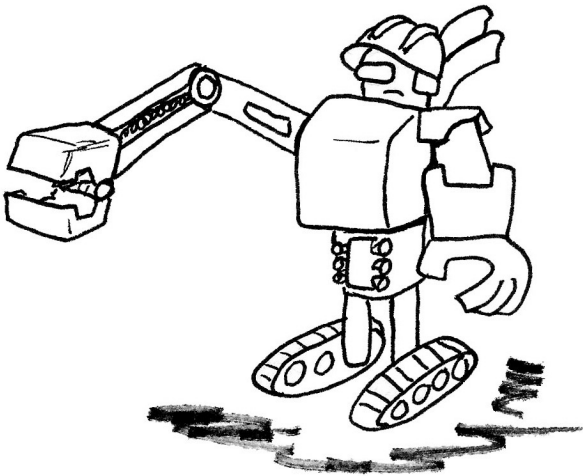

You can watch whatever,
I've got my tunes.

He loves his hamster buddy.

Please limit any radio transmissions while I pass through on my RC feet, thanks.

I'd make a "who remembers 8-tracks" joke but I have to explain CDs to some kids now.

Robots With Slacks

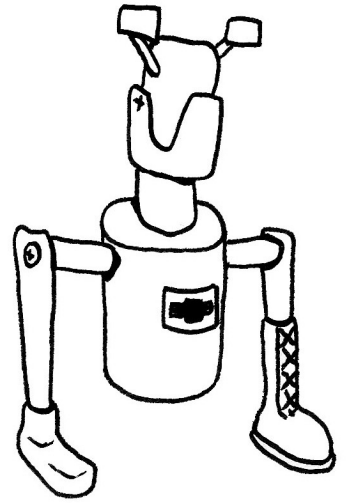

Prepared for naptime.

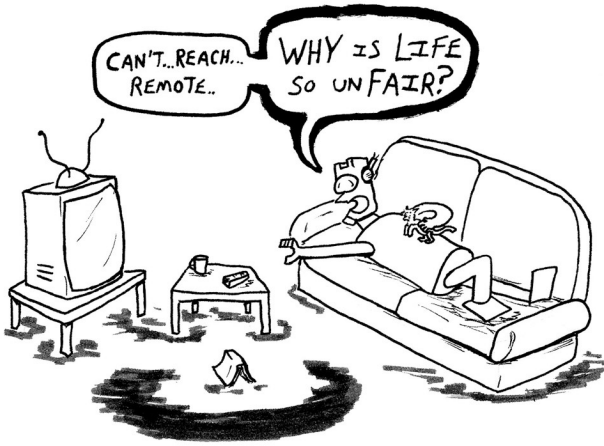

Most of these come from a file labeled "some random robots." I draw about 2-5 robots a day.

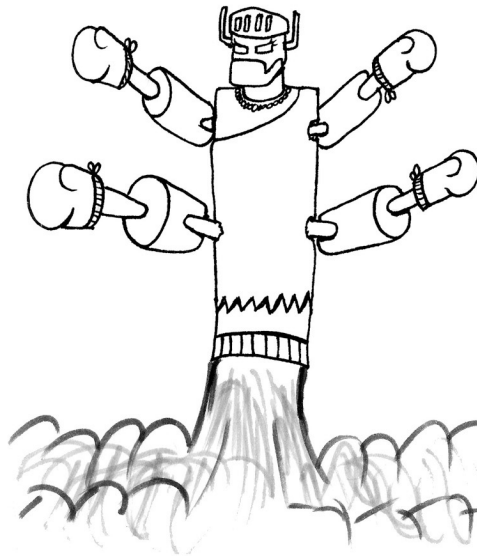

Sometimes I plan them out.

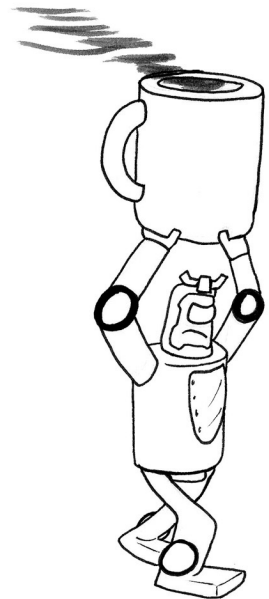

Sometimes I clearly don't.

Some of the are part of a joke, or based on a silly moment from my day.

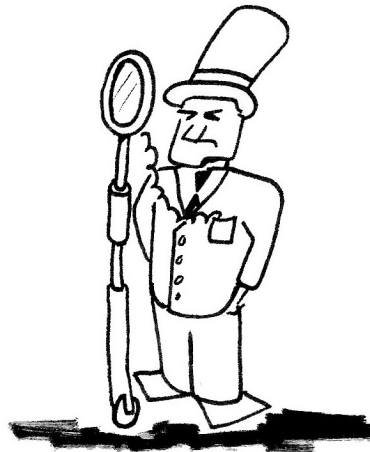

Some are part of a theme.

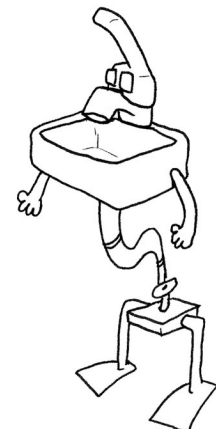

Some take a life of their own.

Some get a name.

Some are just for practice.

Some I don't know what to do with...

I'll just add them to the pile for later.

